Liisa Ruoho Master Class

Sunday, February 7, 2010 2-8 pm

Neighborhood Church, Pasadena

Finnish flutist Liisa Ruoho is known throughout Europe as a consummate performer and brilliant teacher. She is a flute professor at the Sibelius Academy in Helsinki. Her personal study of the Alexander Technique revolutionized both her playing and teaching, and for over 40 years she has taught flutists how to use their original instrument - the body.

“What Liisa has to offer is invaluable...in terms of flute playing, using your body properly, and not getting in your own way. Her ideas and suggestions translate into major changes for the better in your flute playing.” Susan Greenberg, flutist
LA Chamber Orchestra
